

Found A Heart

Found a heart broken and crying and took it home with me

Put that heart straight to bed, gave it lots of TLC

Soon that heart was feeling better, the pain had gone away

And now that heart can beat again, it's found a place to stay

So if you ever find a heart, treat it kind and lovingly

Don't ever break that fragile heart or leave it alone to freeze

For someone else will come along and steal that heart away

And a good heart is hard to find, so make it want to stay.

Instrumental Break

Breaking hearts is not a game; it can leave a scar so deep

And hearts are fragile things need to be handled sweet

For a good heart is hard to find some people search all their life

So if you ever find a heart be sure and treat it nice.
